

RESEARCH AND INNOVATION OUTCOMES

Radha Madhava Adarsh Sanskrit Mahavidyalaya (RMAASM) in Nambol, Manipur, has been actively contributing to research and innovation in Sanskrit studies and the cultural heritage of Northeast India. Notable initiatives include:

Maniprabha Research Journal: The institution has proposed the publication of the "Maniprabha" research journal, focusing on Indian literature and culture, with special attention to the cultural heritage of Northeast India.

State-Level Seminar: Every year we organize state level seminar since 2016 except a break in 2019 due to CORONA. In February 2024, RMAASM organized a state-level seminar titled "Impact of Sanskrit Shastra in Manipuri Society," highlighting the influence of Sanskrit scriptures on local culture.

These efforts underscore RMAASM's dedication to advancing Sanskrit scholarship and preserving regional cultural heritage.
